Red Cross Reports on the July 14th Blood Bank

Despite the heat, 104 Crawford County Good Neighbors came to the American Legion Hall to donate a pint of their life giving blood and we salute you all!

Red Cross Meeting, July 29

The Crawford County Chapter - American National Red Cross will hold its Annual Meeting at 2:00 p.m., Thursday, July 29th, at the Chief Shoppenag Hotel in downtown Grayling.

Every member of American Red Cross is invited to come, and every citizen is most welcome, to hear reports of progress in the past year and plans for improved service to the Community in the future.

Youth Services to Clean AuSable

Last week I spent two days on the AuSable picking up trash in the river and along its banks. From Burton's Landing to Louie's Landing, a mere 15 minute floating time, three young people and myself, picked up three 55 gallon bags full of garbage. It took nearly three hours. To say the least, I was appalled. The situation grew worse as we proceeded down-stream.

Now we have decided to do something about it — with your help.

The Crawford County Youth Services Corporation is starting an "AuSable River Clean-up Program". Each week through September, four to six individuals and myself will work on the river two days each week. The pollution problem merits at least two days a week.

We are asking businesses in the area to donate to this cause. We are also accepting donations from property owners and others that are fed up with the litter problem. It is my intention to speak to officials in regards to much stiffer fines and penalties for those that abuse these waters.

The time for talk has passed and the time to do something is at hand.

Please do your part and send a contribution to: Crawford County Youth Services, Crawford County Courthouse, Grayling, Michigan 49738.

A list of those businesses that contribute will appear in a later edition of the Avalanche.

Pollution is really everyone's problem. Thank you for your concern and support.

Two New Base Camps Set for August Camp

Two new base camps are being constructed north and east of Camp Grayling, near Ranges 30 and 40 respectively, and, according to spokesmen in the camp commander's office, the camps will be ready for use during the August camp by armor and infantry battalions of the 38th Infantry Division.

The purpose of the camps, each of which will provide facilities for 1,000 personnel, is to reduce traffic through the city of Grayling, reduce fuel consumption, and increase training time. These goals — reduced expense, increased training time — are achieved by billeting armor, cavalry, and artillery units nearer their training sites. Because the troops will remain in the base camps during the entire two week training period, travel to and from the main post will be nearly eliminated.

In August, the 1st Battalion, 246 Armor, will be housed at one base camp near Range 30, the armor battalion's usual training site. The 3rd Battalion, 126 Infantry, will be quartered at the base camp near Range 40.

When the base camps are in operation, they will resemble "tent cities." All facilities will be under canvas. Each camp will have electrical service, sump pumps for waste water disposal, septic tanks, and two 16x32 ft. cement slabs to be used for shower facilities. Water will be supplied from two four-inch wells.

When the camps are set up, the tents will be raised over plywood tent floors that are now being constructed. In addition to the squad and mess tents, personal hygiene, recreation, and kitchen tents will be set up for troop use. Essentially, the base camps will offer an

Detroit Man Drowning Victim Here

A Detroit man drowned in Lake Margrethe during a pre-dawn swim last Saturday morning.

Lee P. Saunders of the 225th Infantry, Camp Grayling, was swimming with three other companions when he apparently swam out of sight and could not be located when he yelled for help, officers said.

Two National Guardsmen recovered Saunders in about six feet of water and immediately administered mouth to mouth resuscitation and CPR.

He was transported to Grayling's Mercy Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The accident is still under investigation by the Crawford County Sheriff's Department.

Answers to School Questions

By Michael Delp
Avalanche Staff Writer

There has been some discussion over the issue of unemployment benefits for school employees in recent weeks. How will the district meet the costs necessary?

The basic issue is why does unemployment cost so much money when other businesses and units of government are able to fund it at 2.3% of their payrolls. We were advised before we entered into the unemployment situation that the cost of putting 2.3% of our payroll into the Michigan Employment Security Commission would exceed the probable cost of the reimbursement process that we would operate under if we did not go the 2.3% route. 2.3% of our payroll would have been something like $30,000 or even $40,000 a year. Our unemployment experience per year has been about $8,000. Essentially, we would have thrown $22,000 away. No one anticipated the horrendous budget problems we have this year nor anticipated that we would have so many people laid off. So we were attempting to be fiscally conservative and save money by using this reimbursement process. Right now with our current budget we have 66 teachers laid off, plus another five who have resigned or retired, we have all of our bus drivers, more than half of our custodians, all of our kitchen help, all of our teacher aides, almost all of our secretaries, which makes in excess of 120 people who will be laid off in the fall and we have gone on the reimbursement rate for unemployment. Normally, we have only one or two people a year who qualify for unemployment benefits which ordin-

FREDERIC FIRE — Twin Peaks Ski Lodge, located north of Frederic, was the scene of a fire last Wednesday, July 21. According to Crawford County Sheriff's Deputies, the 60x40 two story pole-type building was a complete loss. The Frederic Fire Department was called to the scene at 12:43 p.m., but fire-fighters were unable to save the structure which has been vacant for several years. According to police officials, the fire may have been an arson. Four young subjects were seen leaving the area on trail bikes shortly after the fire broke out. The fire is being investigated by the Sheriff's Department, the Michigan State Police and the Fire Marshall's Unit in Traverse City.

Area Fishing Report

[By Skip Madsen]

This past week was a good one for trout on the Menistee River with day-time fishermen doing very well on larger flies ... hoppers and hair wing coachmen, etc. Watch for a cloudy day and hit the water with those streamers. The water is very low and clear so use a light long leader and maybe it will pay off for you. The South Branch has had some good mornings with canoe traffic a little lighter during the week.

This is the time of year to hit the upper reaches of the East Branch with skunks and hoppers in the afternoons, evading upstream and casting upstream. Let's not neglect the bait fishermen either, fishing a night-crawler under the bushes, banks and in the deep holes. Once again, line will be in order.

Now is the time to work the big hole off Bear Points on Lake Margrethe. Work up and down the drop-offs for Bass and Walleyes. Nightcrawlers fished right on the bottom should be good and you might also try minnows in the same places. Bradford Lake in the north end of the county is good now. Fish deep for big Perch.

Good Fishing,

Editor's Mailbox

Editor:

May I share with your readers my personal observations on your State Representative, Ralph Ostling?

I know they have more opportunities to see him in person that most constituents have to see theirs. He believes it is important to make himself available to people in every part of his district (and for a district the size of his that is not easy — or inexpensive — he gets no remuneration for the money spent for gas getting around that 103rd District — that is out of his pocket.)

But what is he like when he's in Lansing? What kind of a job does he do for you down here? I think I can answer that better than most — our offices are just a few doors apart and he sits right behind me on the "Floor" of the House. I take, perhaps, just a little more interest in him and how he votes because he represents an area that once was mine to represent — an area full of pleasant memories and good friends.

We don't always vote the same. (The Detroit Free Press' peculiar voting profile last Sunday had us apart on five out of nine issues.) We frequently see things differently but I have always felt he was voting his conscience and best judgment — even as I try to do.

He prepares himself for those votes like a kid cramming for his final exams. Very few representatives put as much time in their offices evenings, studying analyses, position papers and thoughtful letters from interested constituents — weighing the conflicting views and arguments.

No representative is more conscientious about his mail. Big or small problems of constituents receive his personal attention. He believes those constituent problems are an important part of his job.

Maybe it is because I feel the same way about the public trust given us by those who elect us that I have been particularly pleased to have Ralph confirm my original impression of him four years ago.

Ralph is still outspoken — he says what he thinks. You don't have to wonder where he stands on issues — he lets you know. He is honest — you can count on him doing what he commits himself to. (I wish I could say that about more of the legislators I serve with.)

In addition to learning a lot about how to get things done, Ralph has made a lot of friends down here — on both sides of the aisle — Democrats as well as Republicans. He's a guy that is very easy to like. That is worth a lot to the people he represents. I hope they know it.

Ralph recognizes the concerns of the people he represents and shares those concerns (witness the personal time and effort he gave the drive to put the Taxation Limitation Amendment on the ballot this November. It is ironic that perhaps the most important single step taken on behalf of the taxpayers of this state had to be taken outside the Legislature. It was accomplished by the people of Michigan — and it was support and leadership of legislators like Ralph Ostling who made it possible. I surely hope the taxpayers in his district remember that when they go to the polls to vote.)

Ralph Ostling has consistently voted against wasteful spending. (That's one place we are in agreement.)

I hope the voters of the 103rd recognize the fact that they are currently represented by one of the hardest working, most conscientious state representatives and return him to a third term.

Thanks for the opportunity of taking this means of telling my friends up there that I hope they will keep Ralph Ostling as their man in Lansing.

All the best,
Louis K. Cramton
State Representative
102nd District

From Our Corner...

Sorry, no sage advice from our corner concerning the upcoming primary election on Tuesday, Aug. 3rd. The reason — is a very simple one — at this time we do not even know, (with the exception of a couple) with whom we will cast our ballot.

Voters will determine their party candidates for the general election in November from the Congressional level, State, County and for the grass roots Township offices.

Our Corner's only request ... and it is also a simple one ... exercise your rights — vote, it hardly hurts at all.

Sometimes we wonder about our friend Eb, self proclaimed major of South Peninsular street. (We found out last Friday afternoon there was a North and South Pen. St., when he and Mac, mayor of the North end, exchanged jibes in an impromptu meeting at our place). Eb must have gone to school with Will Rogers to be able to come up with some of his remarks.

Anyway, he again suggested to us, our corner is all wrong — we should, he contends, pass the responsibility to others in our community and let them vent their views to our readers, and besides, the paper would have a new mug to look at now and then in the corner instead of yours, he added.

We have to agree, it sounds great to us, but, before it happens we will check with our attorneys first to see if we are also held liable for remarks from an off-street columnist.

Eb has remarked on a couple of jim-dandies that he would insert if given the chance — no way, besides, he doesn't have a recent picture of himself.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Blasphemy At Taxpayer's Expense

Webster's dictionary defines blasphemy as: 1. profane or mocking abuse of God or anything regarded as sacred. 2. contempt for God. Today a new Armed Forces Hymnal contains such blasphemy at taxpayers expense.

The new hymnal or "Book of Worship" has a "hymn" on page 286 titled "It Was On A Friday Morning." This "Easter hymn" goes like this:

"1. It was on a Friday morning that they took me from the cell And I say they had a carpenter to crucify as well. You can blame it on Pilot, you can blame it on the Jews, You can blame it on the devil, It's God I accuse. Chorus: It's God they ought to crucify instead of you and me. I said to the carpenter hanging on the tree."

"2. You can blame it on Adam, you can blame it on Eve, You can blame it on the apple, but that I can't believe. It was God that made the devil and the woman and the man And there wouldn't be an apple if it wasn't in the plan."

"3. Now Barabbas was a killer and they let Barabbas go. But you are being crucified for nothing here below. But God is up in heaven and He doesn't do a thing With a million angels watching and they never move a wing."

"4. To hell with Jehovah, to the carpenter I say. I wish that a carpenter had made the world instead. Goodbye and good luck to you. The road will soon divide. Remember me in heaven, the man you hung beside." In God's last written warning to the nation of Israel before God's divine judgment fell upon them. He said, "Ye have wearied the Lord with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Everyone that doeth evil is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of Judgment?" Malachi 2:17. The very presence of this song in our Armed Forces Hymnal is blasphemy against God, corruptive of our young men and women in uniform, disrespectful of Christianity, unjustified in a book of worship, and an irresponsible use of taxpayer's money.

I would encourage you to write the president as commander in chief of the armed forces, your congressmen and other key individuals, to protest the introduction of such material into items of worship printed at taxpayers expense. The United States of America is the greatest nation on earth. Do your part to help preserve the Christian heritage which made us great. It is hard to reconcile "To hell with Jehovah" with "In God We Trust." Such inconsistency should open our eyes to the spiritual condition of our nation, and remind us that God is wearied by our words. (adv.) Pastor Barnett

Fleas Itch
Fleas have been around longer than man. A fossilized flea unearthed in Australia in 1969 was estimated to be 120 million years old. It was a third of an inch long and to be the missing link in flea evolution, showing that the pests developed from an early form of mosquito.

Editor's Mailbox

July 23, 1976
Crawford County Avalanche
Grayling, Michigan
Dear Sir:
I am a Senior at Grayling High School. So far you have printed letters from people against and for the millage. I thought maybe you would like to hear from someone who is going to be affected by your decision. Mainly this letter is a Thank You for all the things you have done by voting the millage down.

Thank You, so much for making it possible for me to not have Band. I really didn't like marching around and playing. Of course seven years involved in Band isn't all that long. Thanks so much for taking the pressure of worrying about the John Phillip Sousa award off me. No Band, no award, so now me and about four other Seniors don't have to worry.

Thanks for giving me a chance to know the other people in the High School better. Nine teachers and 50 students to a class should make things very cozy. Thanks so much for destroying the chances of my friends of getting athletic scholarships. Jim Tobin and Cliff Bonamie had their chance at it, but no one in the Class of 77 will.

I really want to Thank You for getting rid of Choir, choral music was such a drag, all that harmony and nice sounds. I guess most of all I just want to Thank You for what seems to be a wonderful Senior Year.

I am also in the G.O.A.L. Program you have effectively cancelled that. Thanks for destroying the best break I have ever had in my life. (And lot of other kids too). Even some of the G.O.A.L. students will be going to College.

Yours Truly
Terri Crawford

Hospital Auxiliary

Our summer picnic was held at Wildwood, home of Alice Lozon and Pat Hammon. It was a beautiful day, and all the food was delicious. Thirty members came out for this big get-together and had a wonderful time. Sister Mary Hilda took time out from her busy schedule to join us. Everyone was happy to see Treva Engel again after her long illness. It really was a grand day, and thanks again Alice and Pat for opening your home to us.

It was decided that we are having a Bake Sale on the Milltown Weekend, also a Gift Booth Sale. At the same time there will be a Rummage Sale in Matyn's yard, 604 Michigan Avenue. Time is Friday, July 30th from 12:00 noon to 4:00 p.m., and Saturday, July 31 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Any donation has to be brought in anytime this week and please mark the price on it. The Bake Sale and Gift Booth will be on the right side of Francois Gift Shop.

Anyone who was at the picnic will be contacted again, so please start baking. Mrs. Catherine Baumgarten will be chairman of the Bake Sale. Alice Lozon and Pat Hammon will be chairmen of the Gift Booth. Hope to see you all out there, with smiles on your faces.

W. Ludeman

Bits O' Talk

[By Fay Boove]

Visiting the John Canfields last week were their daughter, Hazel and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gartside from Millersville, Maryland. They returned home Friday, July 23.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pelton and children, Shannon and Aaron, Mrs. Violet Christenson and Mrs. John Canfield drove to Wayne July 17 to attend the wedding of Debra McDougall, the Canfield's granddaughter, and Eddie Essenburg. The couple enjoyed a honeymoon trip to the Bahamas.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hilton and family of Portland, Me., are staying at the George Hilton cottage at Blue Lake for two weeks.

Mrs. Harold Todd of Albany, Ga., is a guest at the home of her twin sister, Mrs. Henry J. Porter, at Lake Margrethe. Mrs. Todd has been at the Porters since June 16th when she and her 13-year old daughter, Margot, arrived and Margot continued on to the Palastrum gymnastics camp at Williamsburg, Mi., where she is studying for 6 weeks.

NICE CATCH—Lloyd Berry, 568 E. Columbia, Pontiac, proudly displays his seven-pound largemouth, which he caught July 3rd in Lake Orion. Berry said it took about 15 minutes to boat the fish after it had struck a plastic crawler. Berry's son, Skip, 15, assisted with the net chores. Berry made the catch about 5 a.m.

Lloyd Berry is formerly of Grayling and is the brother of Mrs. Don (Pat) Legg and Lois Hatfield.

Attends Conference

Randy Thompson of Grayling participated in the 1976 Wausau Homes Fall Marketing Conference for Wausau Homes dealers held July 22-23 in Wausau, Wisconsin.

Over 240 dealers from among thirteen states joined Randy in learning about the latest in product development and Wausau Homes literature, a special winter program and advertising campaign, as well as techniques to assist the consumer in home selection and in post-sale customer service.

A 64-page full-color catalog of home designs and floor plans was the feature among Wausau Homes new literature. Sandy's Value Homes announced that it will have copies of the catalog available to customers free-of-charge.

Wausau Homes, a pioneer in the manufactured housing industry, is now fifth in the nation in sales.

your week ahead BY DAMIS

Forecast Period: August 1 to August 7

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19

You'll receive news this week that will give you a window to see how your job, task or project will make out. Also, watch what you say.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

Whether or not you truly like someone is beside the point. This week, it's advisable for you to be courteous to a member of the opposite sex.

GEMINI
May 21-June 20

By way of a third party, you're going to hear about an inconvenience you'll have to face within the next few days.

MOONCHILD
June 21-July 22

Watch the fun games, parties and that sort of thing. You might be doing things that you should not be doing.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

This day happens to be one of those phases when you should not be concerned about what someone has done...but, rather what they are about to do.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Today, many members of your sign face a "go it alone" type of project. Whatever you do — don't rely on any help to come from your associates.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Avoid topics directed toward politics or religion. According to your chart, it's highly probable that a provocative discussion will explode among your associates.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 21

Keep your personal problems to yourself. According to your chart, an associate wants to exchange secrets — but, behind the scene mischievous motives are at work.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

Pay close attention to a member of the opposite sex's gestures. It seems as though you'll discover hidden motives and real intentions.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

Whether money or the lack of it...is the root of all evil, could be controversial. An exchange of words, because of finances is in the scheme of things.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20-Feb. 18

Being humble, most certainly, is not one of your stronger points. This week, however, paying tribute to an associate, whether or not it's deserved, will pay off.

PISCES
Feb. 19-Mar. 20

Most members of your sign face a week of serious talks with the opposite sex. Make certain that the wrong word doesn't snowball into big things.

School

arity would cost around $6,000. There has also been a great deal of discussion surrounding the GOAL program. Exactly how was the program funded? The GOAL program at the very outset was an experimental program. It was a proposal made by a group of people who had been working on it at the high school. At the time it was presented we had no additional money budgeted for GOAL and we were not able to fund it through the general fund. Before it was implemented we decided we would have to find federal money and perhaps some state money in the form of grants. The federal money came because the program was identified, partially, as a deterrent for drop-outs. Of course that wasn't the entire nature of the program to prevent drop-outs, but there were several students who were drop-out-prone and we were able to obtain federal funding for part of the program. Actually, 50% of the program cost came from the federal government. Nearly half of the rest of the cost picked up through the Michigan Department of Education which pays for students with special needs if a teacher who has a certain kind of endorsement is hired. In this case we hired a teacher who had certification as a teacher of students with emotional problems. In the end the actual cost of the GOAL program was a savings to the school district rather than an expenditure because we took a teacher who was in the general classroom and placed that person in the GOAL program and we were taking care of 30 students who would have ordinarily been taken care of in the regular classroom situation. So, we saved money from the general fund and the GOAL program was not an additional burden on the taxpayers.

In another unrelated issue, some taxpayers have also raised the question of the hiring of a new football coach. Was a new coach actually hired?

The football coach technically has not been hired. We can't hire anyone with all the layoffs. We interviewed several coaches and we have come to an agreement with one coach that if the millage passes he will be hired. If the millage fails, he will remain in the Southern part of the state where he is currently coaching. Essentially, we have not hired a coach but have issued a letter of intent if the millage passes.

Dems Meet

The regular meeting of the Crawford County Democrats was called to order by Chairman Steve Rison last Wednesday, July 21.

Reports were presented on the status of the Democratic raffle of a CB radio and shotgun and the progress of the Democratic Booth at the Milltown Festival.

A discussion was held concerning the upcoming primary election by the membership including candidates — Dean Welch, 103rd House Seat; Chet Orlikowski, candidate for Supervisor, Frederic; Millie Harmer and Betty Sajdak, candidates for Township Clerk, Frederic and Bud Hunter, candidate for county Register of Deeds.

The meeting was adjourned after setting Wednesday, August 18, 7:30 p.m., Chief Shoppenagons at the date, time and location of the next meeting.

New Camps

Improved bivouac situation. The necessity for the base camps was established last September after the 38th Division concluded its 1975 annual training. This August, when the division returns, it will be here in its entirety, 11,000 men strong, minus only Ohio's 73rd Brigade.

After the decision was made to build the camps, the plans were submitted to the National Guard Bureau, which approved an expenditure of $62,000 for the project. The cost involved was mostly for materials (concrete, plywood, plumbing materials, etc.) since most of the labor is being provided by Camp Grayling personnel and military personnel from the Guard's engineering units.

The camps are also expected to be used by artillery and armor units during weekend training drills. The temporary facilities can easily be erected and dismantled, thereby eliminating the need for troops to travel back and forth to the main camp for meals, quarters, etc.

Blood Bank

Joan is married and lives in Owosso; their son Charles is also married and lives in West Branch; and Mrs. Garland is very proud of her nine grandchildren.

Then we asked her why she gave blood so regularly? If there had been some instance in her or her family's life which had inspired her? She answered simply: "No, nothing like that. She was good and healthy, and she thought it was a proper responsibility. That it was the duty of those who could give, to give. So, she gave as often as she had the opportunity." She apologized for it taking her so long to reach the four gallon mark, but, to her regret, several times when she went to give, she had to be deferred.

We not only salute you, Mrs. Garland, we bow in reverence, for you are the true Good Neighbor! You typify what makes us all so proud to be an American!

And you inspire all we Volunteers to keep working to bring Red Cross really alive in Crawford County, and bring all the Red Cross services and benefits to this Community.

Frederic First Baptist Church News

Daily Vacation Bible School was held last week. Our main theme was "Life and Liberty in Jesus Christ". Bible drills, Memory verses, Bible stories and choruses, mystery seats and refreshments were the order of each day. There was a watermelon treat on Friday.

Our project this year was a missionary to Alaska. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson and family, former residents of Otsego Lake. A lovely gift of money will be sent to them.

To climax the week, after our Friday night program, refreshments were served. A centerpiece with a bi-centennial theme consisted of our American flag made of over 100 cupcakes decorated in red, white and blue. They were made by Mrs. Eva Hulbert and sons, Jim and Brian, and Miss Judy Taylor. All in all, it was a very enjoyable week thanks to all who attended.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our appreciation to all those who were so thoughtful and helpful during the loss of our loved one. A special thank you to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kaiser and Mrs. Pauline Henion, who were with us during our time of need.

Also to Pastor Robert Taylor and family, Derek McEvers, A.J. Sorenson, for the gifts of food by friends, the ladies who prepared the food for the luncheon and those who took part in the memorial service.

To the Holiday Inn and employees and the Grayling High School baseball team for their concern.

A belated thank you to Dr. Blaha, Dr. Henig and the 2nd floor nurses during past stays in the hospital. For all the cards, visits and donations to the American Cancer Society and Frederic Library Fund, which will long be appreciated.

Milltown Night of Lights Regatta, Lake Margrethe August 1st

Final plans for the first annual Milltown Night of Lights Regatta were completed on Monday, July 26th, at a noon luncheon meeting at Chief Shoppenagons Hotel. This unusual event promises to be unique and enjoyable for the entire family.

Official starting time is 8:00 p.m. on Sunday evening, August 1st, at Eagle Point on Lake Margrethe. The first pass around the perimeter of the lake led by a Crawford County Sheriff's patrol boat (piloted by Don Hemming) will be for the purpose of organizing the various types of watercraft in an orderly line, 50 feet apart.

All watercraft should have the proper lighting and safety equipment aboard to comply with state and county regulations. On the start of the second pass around the lake, or when darkness requires the use of lights, all watercraft will display their usual or unusual lighting. If you have the proper convertor or generator, Christmas lights are possible.

Two prizes to be announced later will be awarded for the most and best decorated watercraft to participate. The general public is invited to witness this first historic event in Grayling's history from any vantage point they choose.

If successful, plans are already underway to expand the regatta in future years.

This year's event conceived by Leo Cavanaugh and Arnie Mauren as a finale to Grayling's Milltown Festival drew the attention of other Grayling area residents who were anxious to participate, including:

Jim Wiltse, Eagle Point ..... 348-5575
George Pamerleau, McIntyre's Landing ..... 348-8348
Leo Cavanaugh, Harbor Beach ..... 348-9547
Tom Welch, Southeast Shore ..... 348-5025
Ken Golthro, Southeast Shore ..... 348-8954
John Naour, Danish Landing ..... 348-8476
Dale Rhode, Danish Landing ..... 348-9116

Anyone interested in participating should contact one of the above.

Little League

We would like to let the Grayling Little League All-Stars know how proud we and the community were of their playing on the field, and their sportsman-like conduct. We of Grayling had some fine representation in the tournaments.

Even though we lost 11 - 7 they had the winning spirit and almost pulled it out in the 6th. We also would like to mention that even though WGRY announcers said Richard Schreiber made an error in the 5th inning that it wasn't Richard. He left the game in the bottom of the 3rd.

Thanks again to a fine group of young men.

Milltown Motor Rally

Think you're a skillful driver? Never get lost? Then test yourself in the Milltown Motor Rally, Sunday, August 1, beginning at the Grayling High School parking lot on Old 27. The Motor Rally, winding its way through 50 miles of Crawford County Roads, is open to all licensed drivers.

Each team who participates, consisting of a car driver and navigator, will be given a list of directions which will guide them along the rally course. No street names will be listed on the directions, but rally teams must determine the route by explicitly following posted speed limits, time elapsed, odometer readings and other indications. In addition rallyists must answer questions about points of interest, landmarks, etc. along the route.

Winners will be determined by a point system based on route time (over or under pace car time) and correct answers to rally questions. This simple system will penalize drivers exceeding posted speed limits or teams unable to adequately answer visually-oriented questions.

No special cars or equipment is required, a working odometer, speedometer, and watch will suffice. All entrants under age 18 must have parental consent forms filed with the Chamber to be eligible. A one dollar entrance fee is required of each team to cover trophy costs. For further information, contact the Chamber at 348-3336.

WHY RE-ELECT HAROLD HATFIELD?

EXPERIENCED

In November 1972 with over twenty years of law enforcement experience in Crawford County, Harold Hatfield was elected Sheriff. When he took office January 1, 1973, Department Officers training was lax. At present, approximately 85% of the Sheriff's Deputies are certified by the STATE OF MICHIGAN AS POLICE OFFICERS, nearly 100% attend REGULAR in-service training classes at NO COST to the taxpayer.

A WORKING SHERIFF

Whether it was policing fatal accidents, assisting in flood control, a tornado, walking miles through our country looking for a lost tourist, to staying out all night in a thunderstorm attempting to locate a drowning victim, Hatfield was there, working with his men. At every major incident that has taken place in Crawford County in the last 3½ years, Hatfield has been at the scene.

RESULTS

Crawford County Law Enforcement Agencies have solved, on a percentage basis, nearly twice as many crimes as the state-wide average. With an excellent Prosecuting Attorney and capable Police Officers, the criminal's chance of being caught and convicted in Crawford County is nearly twice as great as in almost any other area of the state. Yet with the exception of two C.E.T.A. employees there has not been an increase in department personnel.

ECONOMY MINDED

Faced with an extremely high rate of inflation, Hatfield, in an effort to cut costs and still provide twenty-four hour protection and service, to an ever-increasing population, formed an auxiliary force to assist deputies with law enforcement duties. These local men and women have donated thousands of hours to the department at no cost to the taxpayer.

THE CRIME LAB

With drug abuse on the rise, Hatfield formed the Crawford County Crime Lab. He was instrumental in the procuring of State and Federal Funds for its operation. It is no longer necessary to transport narcotic evidence all the way to Lansing for analysis. A yearly savings of thousands of dollars.

PREVENTION—THE JUNIOR DEPUTY PROGRAM

In an effort to reduce the number of safety related accidents among our children, Hatfield created the Junior Deputy Program. The first program of its kind in northern Michigan. Our children, in regular classroom instruction are being taught safety by deputies who volunteer their days off to teach bicycle, boating, first aid, snowmobile, and a variety of other safety related classes at no cost to the taxpayer.

THE BUDGET

The budget has of course been increased. Some of this increase was due to inflation, some to a Union already organized before Hatfield was elected. What most of us didn't know was that a large part of that increase is in the form of State and Federal Grants. Our tax dollars that were being spent in other counties for their law enforcement are now, due to Hatfield's initiative, being spent for LAW ENFORCEMENT IN CRAWFORD COUNTY.

We've given you several good reasons to VOTE HAROLD HATFIELD ON AUGUST 3rd. They're not promises of what might be, but facts!!! We hope you will consider them when you cast your ballot.

RE-ELECT A MAN DEDICATED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT

PURSUANT TO THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION'S ORDER IN CASES NO. U-4840 AND U-4621 DATED APRIL 12, 1976.

Monthly hearings will be held before the Michigan Public Service Commission for the purpose of considering authorization to permit Consumers Power Company to reflect in monthly billings to its customers charges or credits for changes in appropriate items of expense associated with purchased and net interchange power from a base cost included in previously approved rate levels.

A hearing will be held on August 12, 1976 at 9:30 AM in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan to consider inclusion of a proposed purchased and net interchange power adjustment charge of 1.42 mills per kilowatt-hour to be applied to bills rendered to Consumers Power Company customers in the September 1976 billing period.

Details of the calculation of the proposed adjustment will be presented along with a summary of net system kilowatt-hour requirements including details of the various types of purchased and interchange power transactions and circumstances necessitating any outages of installed capacity for a period exceeding ninety (90) days. ## CRAWFORD COUNTY PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

For the past 5 years JOHN B. HUSS has worked hard for impartial, fair but strict law enforcement and has done his job well.

In Crawford County the criminal's chance of being caught and convicted of the crime he commits is twice as great as in almost any other area of the state.

[SOURCE: OCTOBER 15, 1975 REPORT OF THE NORTHEAST REGIONAL JUSTICE ADVISORY COUNSEL]

IN ADDITION:

As early as 1972 he insisted that criminal defendants, upon conviction, be ordered to repay to Crawford County the money spent by the County for Court appointed attorney fees. (A policy now in effect in the Circuit Court (felonies) and to be implemented soon in the District Court (misdemeanors).)

He instituted a first-of-its-kind program in Crawford County to prosecute welfare frauds (who cheat the taxpayer and those who truly deserve assistance).

He encouraged and was instrumental in the creation of the Crawford County Drug Lab, utilized and respected by law enforcement agencies throughout Northern Michigan.

JOHN B. HUSS HAS EARNED A WELL RESPECTED REPUTATION AS A GOOD PROSECUTING ATTORNEY AND EXCELLENT TRIAL LAWYER WHO WILL FIGHT TO MAKE CRAWFORD COUNTY A BETTER AND SAFER PLACE TO LIVE.

He will continue to enforce the law fairly and impartially, but to its fullest measure against those who deserve it.

He will continue, without hesitation, to recommend substantial bonds and sentences for those who have proven that they are a threat to the rest of society.

concerned about what was not said, but possibly inferred, than what was said. For this week I will restrict my report to Task IV — Property Tax Administration.

Emphasis is placed on the role of the professional assessor in maintaining an efficient and equitable property tax administration system. It is suggested that property tax administration reform efforts must focus on the issues of adequate training, unit size, funding and access to relevant information.

Four organizational designs are outlined. Each alternative highlights specific practice, organizational and funding proposals under the heading of Assessment Administration. In addition each alternative addresses the equalization function as well as the review and appeal process.

Part one of Task IV states, "Taxpayer concern with rising tax burdens is resulting in a demand for efficient property tax administration". It is my opinion the demand is for complete property tax reform. The report goes on to state, "The equalization process is beset by many of the same organizational and funding difficulties found in the assessment function". The review and appeal process also warrants serious attention.

The four organizational designs range from the complete centralization of the property tax function to a well coordinated township - city - state administration.

Alternate I — township - city assessment. A township - city assessment system would contain the minimal qualities of a professional system. Its administrative structure is similar to the status quo.

Alternate II — township - city - state assessment. A modification of Alternate I, the state would assume a more extensive supervisory and coordinating role as well as some direct assessment responsibility.

Alternate III — county - large municipality - state assessment. A county - large municipality assessment plan is proposed to systematically address the pervasive geographic fragmentation characteristics of current administrative arrangements. (My interpretation of this is to do away with all small assessing units and replace them with large units, which may be county wide or perhaps on a regional level. In addition many of the state boards and commissions presently involved with property tax would be combined into a state tax authority.)

Alternate IV — state assessment with local levy and collection. A centralized state property tax administrative structure would represent the most substantial change from the current system.

The property tax is perhaps the last remaining tax where the people can still exercise some degree of control. With the many faults of the present system, the price of turning property tax administration over to appointed people at a higher level of government, may be too high a price to pay in hopes of correcting the system. Perhaps the answer lies in approaching the problem by looking at the things property tax is called upon to support. It may prove much simpler to only expect property tax to support local government such as, township, city and county, and find other sources for education. I am far from convinced that a higher level of government will accept the task presently being carried out at the local level without demanding additional taxation to support the program.

With the great amount of concern being expressed about the property tax I hope to see Crawford County well represented at the hearing in Gaylord, July 30th.

Flower gardens worth noticing this week include the planters on the Edgar MacPherson porch on Chestnut St. The Potunias look as though they've had plenty of TLC. If you proceed further up Chestnut to the George Hilton home you'll find a neatly tended garden of both flowers and vegetables making a colorful display along the Vine Street side.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bennett of Lansing are spending the summer at their place on the east side of Lake Margrethe. He is retired from the liquor control commission. Previous to their arrival, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dobler and family of Lansing spent 10 days at the Bennett home.

Mrs. Joseph Balnave and three sons, Billy, Eddie, and David of Livonia, spent two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corbett at Lake Margrethe. Billy Balnave spent another week with his grandparents.

Senator and Mrs. Robert Young and family of Saginaw are spending a few days vacationing at their home at Lake Margrethe.

Editor's Mailbox

Dear Parents: Concerned for your Child's Education:

It is with this concern for the educational needs of the children of Crawford County I am writing.

We cry to our school administration and staff: Where are our tax dollars going? Maybe we howl and really don't want to know! We really can't be bothered.

We can't take time to attend board meetings, besides that's Mr. Dean's and the staff's job!

We cry over our own needs - Don't raise our taxes, we can't afford that golf membership, or that new snowmobile, or vacation.

Inflation has hit us hard - but not our schools. Their books cost the same as two years ago! HA! Their fuel expenses haven't skyrocketed as ours have. Their per pupil expenditure can stay the same for years! HA!

People of Crawford County - Open Your Eyes!

If our millage election is defeated and we lay off 60 teachers, whose tax dollars are paying for their unemployment compensation and for what???

Sincerely,
Jean Weaver

The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read. A motion was made by Comm. Millikin, supported by Comm. Richter that the minutes be approved as read. All voted in favor, motion carried.

An application was received from General Telephone Company for a permit to bore under the North Down River Road to place buried telephone cable. The permit was approved and signed by the Commissioners.

An application was received from Top O'Michigan Rural Electric Company for a permit to construct an overhead distribution line along Twin Bridge Road, Sec. 24, T28N, R2W, Lovells Township. The permit was approved and signed by the Commissioners.

A review and discussion was held on Primary and Local road bridges under the jurisdiction of the Road Commission. Concern was expressed over the condition of several of these bridges and the frequent maintenance needed to keep them in satisfactory condition. A consulting engineer will be contacted for an in-depth analysis to determine the extent of deterioration of bridges, and method and costs of restoration.

The Commissioners and Engr. Mgr. Keir made a trip of inspection over various roads and bridges in the County and in particular Smith Bridge, McMasters Bridge and Batterson Bridge and over Sunrise Road, Connors Flat Road, County Road 612 and Old 27 North.

Upon returning to their office a motion was made and supported to adjourn. All voted in favor, motion carried, meeting adjourned.

C'mon there, Humph!

Recently, while suffering an attack of old-fashioned morality brought on by a Jimmy Carter speech, I wrote a terrible thing. I wrote that Hubert Humphrey is a four-flusher because he reneged on more than $800,000 in 1972 campaign debts.

This made Humphrey angry and he sent me a letter saying so.

"I have been brought up to pay my bills, and I do so," he said.

Humphrey's letter should be preserved as a fine example of how slippery politicians grease their way around cut corners. His reasoning is typical of the lopsided justice which pardons a Richard Nixon and sends a two-bit burglar to prison.

Humphrey didn't deny that a group of his creditors, owed $900,000, went payless for four years and then had to settle for four cents on the dollar. Except, he said, the debt really hadn't been his in the first place.

The $900,000 had been lent "to the campaign committee and not to me," Humphrey wrote in his letter.

Oh well, that's different. I thought Humphrey solicited the cash personally and took it home and slept with it. I didn't realize the loans were transacted through a committee. The lenders probably never heard of Hubert Humphrey. They weren't buying favor with a possible president. They thought the money was going to be spent on long underwear for freezing Indians.

But no, that can't be. In a later paragraph, Humphrey admitted that the lenders "were all personal friends who are very well to do and who are not complaining at all over the fact that they received a very small settlement on their loan."

In fact, Humphrey said, these generous buddies knew when they lent the dough that "there was the possibility that the committee might not be able to repay."

Why worry? Hubert might get elected this time and it doesn't hurt to be able to say to the president: "Hey, Humph, remember that time I wrote off that $150,000 your campaign committee owed me? Well, here's what I'd like you to do..."

Anyway, if the stingees are not griping about being stung for $800,000, Humphrey said, "others who have no liability or interest in this matter ought not to be raising their voices in complaint." He means me.

Sorry, Humph, but my voice remains raised.

The senator from Minnesota has as much as admitted that the loans were phony, and were really contributions. So why weren't they called that in the first place?

Humphrey admits the loans were made by his personal friends, yet he accepts no responsibility for them. Some "campaign committee" signed the IOU.

Perhaps some campaign laws were bent. It's a safe bet that what the Humphrey committee did in 1972 it couldn't get away with in 1976. Which doesn't necessarily mean the world is getting better. It simply means the cheaters must find new ways to cheat. And they will.

It saddens me because I used to be a Humphrey fan. He was my kind of liberal. I figured he was for the little guy and certainly he wouldn't condone the type of cruddy justice which says raggedy muggers are crooks but well-dressed welshers are modern princes to be admired for their lofty goals, rather than condemned for their crummy ethics.

But forget the legal niceties. I'm talking about old-fashioned morality, that glowing quality which all the politicians embraced so enthusiastically in the Watergate parking lot. I'm talking about justice that doesn't peek under the blindfold.

If Joe Slob borrows $5,000 and doesn't pay it back, he faces court action. If the transaction was a fraud, he faces prison. If he does his stealing in a less genteel manner, such as mugging, he could be stoned to death in the courthouse square.

But big-shot candidates can fuzz over the roadblocks built for peasants. Bribes are loans and loans are contributions and they all add up to the stickum that keeps good buddies together, on top. Only a few arrogant meatheads, such as Agnew, come unglued.

Hubert Humphrey won't be elected president. But he could have been, and why not? He didn't do anything dozens of other candidates haven't done through the years.

And he would have been an improvement over the last guy elected.

For months, people have been complaining that they don't know anything about Jimmy Carter.

Maybe that explains his success. The more you learn about most candidates, the more inclined you are to vote for a stranger with a big smile.

National Guard Sponsors Boys Camp

(Special to the Avalanche) CAMP GRAYLING — The Michigan National Guard Boys Camp was an idea whose time had come and has continued during the past eight years.

The camp, conducted in two increments of one week each at northern Michigan's Camp Grayling, was begun in the summer of 1968, the year following the massive civil disturbance in Detroit. The original idea was to give disadvantaged inner city youths an opportunity for a summer camping experience they otherwise might not have and to acquaint them with the National Guard and individual Guardsmen. The concept has not changed much over the years, but the program has been broadened to include youths from out-state cities as well as the Detroit metropolitan area.

This year's camp, which is operated by volunteer National Guard personnel, was attended by 157 Detroit area youngsters, aged eight to fourteen, the first week and by 143 boys from Lansing, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Flint, Bay City, Saginaw, Pontiac, Grand Rapids and Grayling the second week. The camp was conducted during the annual active duty training period of 4,300 Guardsmen and Army Reservists at Camp Grayling, July 10-24.

During their stay at Camp Grayling, the boys live in military barracks and are fed in a military mess hall. They participate in organized athletics, including a junior olympics program, and are treated to tours of area scenic attractions, including the Mackinac Bridge, the state fish hatchery at Grayling and Hartwick Pines state forest.

National Guard personnel are assigned as counselors to the boys and Guard cooks operate the camp mess hall.

This year's boys camp was under the command of Maj. Robert G. Lundy of Detroit who is a full time race relations-equal employment opportunity officer with the Guard in Lansing.

Although the boys occasionally get into squabbles, as boys will, Maj. Lundy says such problems are minimal. "When they first arrive at Grayling, the boys don't know what to expect and they are somewhat distrustful of their counselors," Maj. Lundy says. "But as they learn that the counselors are their friends who are there to help them, the boys open up and really enjoy themselves."

Although the camp was originally financed by contributions from Guardsmen and other interested persons, some state financial backing is now provided by the Legislature. "Although we don't have enough money to do all the things we would like to do, we have enough to give the boys a good time," Maj. Lundy stated.

The reaction of the boys to the camp is perhaps best indicated by the fact that a number of the youths who arrive at Camp Grayling each year are repeaters, boys who requested to return.

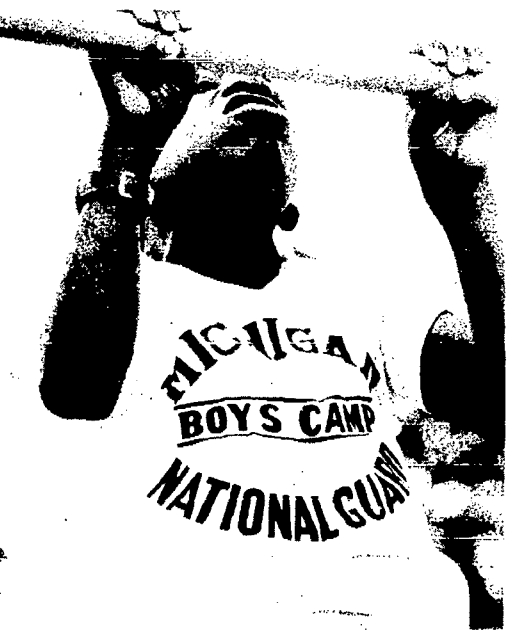

"We don't encourage repeats," Maj. Lundy said, "because we want to give as many youths as possible an opportunity to participate. However, we don't reject qualified youths who are recommended and want to return."

The boys are selected for attendance through community social and church agencies.

Although attendees of the camp during the early years were predominantly Black, the racial mix is now fairly well balanced.

A man who really believes in the concept of the boys camp and has been with it since its inception is Chief Warrant Officer Wyman J. Solomon of Detroit. Solomon, a full time employee of the Guard at the combined support maintenance shop in Lansing, is the camp's senior counselor. This year, he was presented an award of the Department of Military Affairs for outstanding and dedicated services at the camp during the period 1967-76.

"My reward," Solomon said, [See Boys Camp on page 2]

New Lottery Game

Tickets went on sale July 27 for a new $1 weekly lottery game, "The '76 Game", which features a top weekly prize of $1,776 each week for a year. The '76 Game will last only six weeks, with regular drawings each Thursday from August 5 through September 9. Each ticket has 10 possible winning numbers that can earn the ticket holder a prize of from $76 to $1,776 a week for a year—a total of $92,352.

Three winning numbers will be drawn each Thursday. One 6-digit number, one 5-digit number and one 3-digit number will be selected.

Matching the 3-digit number exactly earns the ticket holder a prize of $76. Sales of one million tickets per week will generate 2,000 winners of that prize.

A match of the 5-digit number earns the ticket holder $1,776, $1,976, $2,000 or $5,000. There should be 10 winners of each amount each week.

Matching the 6-digit number exactly means winning $20,000, $25,000, $50,000 or the top prize $1,776 every week for a year. There should be one winner per week of each prize.

The red, white and blue tickets will be sold at all 8,000 regular lottery ticket outlets around the state. New tickets go on sale each Tuesday. Tickets will be sold through noon each Tuesday for the subsequent Thursday's drawing.

A top prize winner will be guaranteed each week. If no ticket is sold matching the winning number for the $1,776 per week prize, it will be awarded to the person or persons qualifying for the 2nd ($50,000) prize.

Winning numbers will be announced during the regular weekly lottery television show each Thursday at 7 p.m.

The regular 50 cent game will continue unchanged, while the $1 "Michigan Landmarks" Instant Game concludes on August 10.

A new Instant Game is being planned for the fall, after the '76 Game ends.

Letter from Scott Fick — YFU Student in Santiago, Chile.

Dear Family,
Everything is great 'down here'! I'm sorry I can't talk on the telephone very well, but I'm trying so hard with the Spanish, I almost forgot my English.

From New York, we flew to Miami, then to Panama, then to Coli, Columbia; to Lima, Peru and on to Santiago. South American airports are not like Kennedy, they are more like Grayling.

In Santiago, all the family were there waiting for me. They kept calling my name and waving. They all speak a little English. On Friday, I went with brother Gustavo and met all the family, Cousins, Grandparents, aunts and uncles and friends. On Saturday, we went skiing. I didn't get to relax or unpack my suitcase for a few days. I had about 21 hours of sleep in 4 days. On Sunday, we had a barbecue in the back yard. It seemed like they cook half a cow. I gave everyone my gifts and they were all very pleased. This is the only time the family is alone. Their friends come by at any and all times. There is always a crowd here and this was very hard to get used to.

On Monday, I went with mama. We did many odd jobs and saw all of Santiago. Tuesday, we drove to their summer home and picked a big basket of Avocados. Then on to Vina Del Mar (an exclusive city on the ocean) and we toured the inside of a large casino. We then toured all the city. She took this week off work to show me around.

On Friday, I have a YFU meeting and then will go to a concert and hear Chilean musicians with my three sisters, Marcella, Carola and Paula.

When I first arrived, I was cold all the time because of the change from summer to winter. I caught a cold and Mama really pumped the pills down me. Some days I do a lot of 'nothing', which is a Chilean specialty.

2 weeks later—
I have been here two weeks now and miss home very much, but am having a great time. I am anxiously waiting for Gonzalo to arrive. I have been to four schools since I've been here and when Gonzalo arrives, I will attend his. Today is the first day of the two week winter holiday vacation.

Santiago is like any big city. Full of people, smog and noise. The only place to play games is in the street. I prefer Grayling to Santiago anytime.

Well Chao,
Scott

Boys Camp

"is not the plaque, although I appreciate it, but in seeing the change in some of these kids from the time they arrive at Camp Grayling until the time they leave. Although not all of them have personal problems, many of them do and the boys camp gives them a new perspective on life. My only regret is that we don't have more time to work with them."

AUGUST 3rd PRIMARY

For the first time in more than five years, the voters of Crawford County have a choice as to who their Prosecuting Attorney will be.

The constitutional burden of a Prosecuting Attorney is to insure that justice is accomplished. It is the Prosecutor's duty to see to it that the innocent are protected, as well as that the guilty are punished. Further, the Prosecutor must be ready and able to assist other County officials with matters that are legal in nature. I am prepared to assume these obligations!

I pledge to the people of Crawford County a program of FAIR, EFFICIENT and FISCALLY RESPONSIBLE law enforcement.

Almanack

Richard Milliman

Voter faces heavy burdens

Theft is the underlying theme of this week's Almanack ... meaning the presentation herewith of various quotations from various sources which to me have been stimulating, provocative, or just plain interesting for various reasons.

For instance ... Columnist Joseph Kraft a few weeks back described the primary victories of that unlikely national candidate, the Hon. Jimmy Carter, in these terms:

"Beyond announcing that the stigma of race is off Southern leaders, these victories may promise the end of another Southern specialty. I have in mind the tendency to be uncritical boosters of American armed strength, hawks in all military engagements, see-ers of subversives under every bed.

"To me, anyway the great hope of the new regional balance is that, much as the Kennedy presidency pulled the Catholics away from hysterical anti-communism, so a Carter presidency, and the final end of the Civil War, would relieve the South of the need to be super-American."

Hmmmm. He might have something there, you know. But what if Carter loses? Does that mean Southerners are military hawks, super-patriots, etc.?

Reporter Dennis Farney of the Wall Street Journal took a recent look at the primary scene from the Republican side of the fence, and came up with these thoughts:

"About all the Republican primaries accomplished was to hurt Republican chances to retain the White House next fall.

"President Ford and Ronald Reagan, still locked in an extremely tight race, have staggered out of the primary season looking like two over-the-hill prizefighters. Each has battered the other nearly senseless while bungling opportunities to land a knockout blow. Now, while the Democrats unite around Jimmy Carter, the Republicans face an increasingly bitter struggle."

Seeing Mr. Ford slightly ahead — at least at that particular moment — Reporter Farney continues:

"Still, the erratic Ford campaign has blown leads before. It had Mr. Reagan on the canvas early in the race, but let him up again in North Carolina. And in calculation and strategy the Reagan campaign hasn't proved any better. So, calculations notwithstanding, the nomination ultimately may go to the man who avoids making the last mistake."

Mr. Farney has put his finger on the entire art of elective politics as I perceive it. And that is not necessarily to score positively, but rather to avoid error. Of course, with the mood of the country being what the pollsters tell us it is, perhaps the biggest Republican mistake this year will be to win the right to run against Mr. Carter.

U.S. Rep. Wayne Hays, who now needs no further identification, faces an election challenge from an independent candidate the mayor of Steubenville, Ohio, who is William Crabbe. Mr. Crabbe recently commented on the political situation in their eastern Ohio district:

"This is church and family oriented area, the heartland of America. The people here believe in the Ten Commandments and they prove it at the polls.

"The people here will pray for him (Mr. Hays) and so will I ... but I don't think they will vote for him."

Mr. Crabbe may be right. But the unsettling thing is he probably isn't.

Electronic journalist Daniel Schorr, sidelined by his network in the squabble over leaking a congressional report on the CIA, was asked how he felt to be "at the center of a controversy in which some are calling you a martyr." Replied Mr. Schorr:

"The joys of Martyrdom are vastly overrated. The publicity has turned my world upside down. I'm working harder than ever and enjoying it less ...

"Worst of all, I guess, is that I have lost my free speech and can't even say anything without checking it out with my lawyer."

The penalty for principle is high. So is the penalty for misplaced arrogance. Mr. Schorr is paying one or the other.

Editor's Mailbox

To the Editor and People of Crawford County:

I know a lot of you don't realize what the strike is all about at Bear Archery and are condemning our strikers for this situation.

Did you ever stop to wonder why so many people with a lot of years (seniority as we call it) are out on strike — Lyle Johnson with 27½ years, myself with 26½ years, George Bielski with 25½ years, John Kucharek 24 years in August, Ed Kucharek 25 years in Oct., Monte Malone, Mary Nolph, Bill Cox all over 20 years and many more.

A few years ago the Archery sold our leather dept. to someone else. Did you know that people who had 10 and 11 years of seniority were laid off and people with only a few months in the shop were kept on. Did you know that years ago we had a profit sharing plan which they, the company invested in different stocks for us and lost some of our money — and that the present retirement plan is only in effect from 1968 — if you don't have any money in the profit sharing plan to add to the present retirement clause you get nothing for the years from 1947 through 1968. You have to have ten years in or be 45 years of age. Mr. Frank Muth gets $31.00 a month retirement pay as does Ken Benheart for a total of 44 years with Bear Archery. Mrs. Mary Neal gets $5.81 for 17 years at Bear Archery. Mr. Bear told us to stick with him and we'd all be able to retire good — Victor Comp. knew Mr. Bear had some older employees but made no exceptions.

Mr. Bear said the "Archery" was getting too big for him to handle so he merged with Victor Comp., but, he didn't ask our permission to do this. The same as we didn't ask his permission to join the union of our choice, because there are now too many people working at Bear Archery to be represented by a small association.

Can you believe that Mr. Kelly has already gave the people working in our plant our annual picnic (which we had to fight for) so he would not have to give one for us when we go back to the plant. Also they said no more Christmas Bonus which we have always had because they gave us a raise in pay. They gave the office help better insurance than the working people, although we all bleed the same.

Can you have a baby now-a-days for $400.00. This includes doctor and hospital. The office has five days for sick and personal leave, we have two days of being sick. We not only lose money for time off but we have to present a doctor's statement saying we were sick.

Now they let their new employees have a 4 day, 10 hour work week which they would not let us have. People are wearing tennis shoes in the plant, we couldn't. I could go on but space is limited. I just want you to know a few facts so you could try to judge us more fairly.

Let me close with just this. In all the years at working for Bear Archery I am seeing the really close friends this union, the UAW has. Union brothers & sisters from all over the country brought us not only money but their prayers and well wishes for this strike to end. They believe as we do everyone has a right to have the Union of their choice.

Thank you,
Joan E. Rasmussen

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

All The Way

When Pat was younger, he used to think I was a Superman. He's older now, and he knows that I'm not. But he still has that special kind of confidence kids have in their parents ... and more than anything else, I want to merit that trust.

There was a time when I seldom went to church. Then, one day I realized that if I were going to be the kind of father Pat needed, I had to have help — God's help. I went to church, and I prayed. At first, it wasn't easy to pray. But gradually the words came stronger and clearer.

Maybe I'll never be able to give Pat everything I'd like to give him. But he can always depend upon me for the most important thing of all: truth. I found truth in the Church.

Y' SAY YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND HAVE BEEN HAPPY FOR 20 YEARS?
JUDGE, UNTIL HE STEPPED OUT ON ME, WE WERE BOTH IN LOVE WITH THE SAME MAN.

Keep it up!

When's the last time you looked under your car? Or asked your service man to? Next time you change oil, and your car's on the rack, keep it up. At least long enough to check your exhaust system, shocks, wheel seals and the underall condition of your car. Most of the time you can spot trouble before it becomes a major repair bill.

And, if your service dealer displays the NAPA sign, you can be sure that any needed replacement parts are guaranteed to meet or exceed all manufacturers warranties. NAPA with a stock of over 90,000 part numbers is the brand you can trust.

Next time, to avoid costly upkeep, remember ... keep it up. With genuine NAPA parts and service.

Tourism Creates Jobs

by Willard E. Bosseman
County Extension Director

Those vacationers browsing through the local downtown area or basking on the beach are part of a $4 billion flow being generated in Michigan this year. "Tourism has become a major input to the U.S. economy, generating almost $72 billion, or about 5.1 percent of the U.S. Gross National Product in 1974," says Dr. Robert McIntosh, Michigan State University Extension tourism and resort specialist.

Nationally, travelers' spending created 3.7 million jobs representing 4.3 percent of our civilian employment, with payroll of nearly $20 billion in 1974. Out of every dollar spent by the traveler, 12.4 cents (almost $10 billion in 1974), was returned to federal, state or local government in taxes.

Crawford County received about 0.4 percent of the state's lodging business and tourism. Roscommon received about 9 percent based upon its proportion of room sales tax. Using this as a ratio, the Crawford county's tourist industry contributes about $15.6 million annually and Roscommon county's tourist dollar was 35 million, based on the state's estimate of $4 billion for 1976. There are 61 lodging businesses in the Crawford and 247 in Roscommon county. No count of restaurants and other travel service businesses has been reported.

The Michigan Travel Bureau of the Department of Commerce estimates it takes about $28,600 of tourist expenditures to create one full time job. On this basis, tourism creates about 547 jobs for Crawford County and 1,232 for Roscommon County. In smaller volume counties, this total was raised somewhat due to more family operated businesses. If indirect or induced employment is added (such as laundry and maintenance service, contractors, food suppliers, and similar businesses), considerably more jobs are created, based partly upon tourism.

Direct tourism employment is estimated at about 134,000 full time jobs. Additional indirect and induced employment has been estimated at a summer peak of about 140,000 to 150,000, falling to 40,000 to 75,000 during the slower seasons.

The removal of tourism from Michigan's economy with no replacement by another industry would cost the state about 243,000 jobs averaged annually with a peak of about 280,000 jobs in the summer and a minimum of about 175,000 in a low season such as early spring. Tourism is a labor-intensive industry, meaning that businesses engaged in serving the traveling public tend to employ quite a large number of persons in relation to the dollar volume of business which they generate.

For example, a modern motor hotel of about 100 rooms will employ approximately 85 persons part and full time. Restaurants similarly hire quite a large number of employees. In fact, the public hospitality business in the United States employs a larger number of so-called "unskilled" employees than any other industry in the country.

Persons or organizations interested in attracting more tourist industry to their area, will find guidelines in nearly 30 MSU Extension bulletins available through the local Extension office. Topics range from the feasibility of tourism within the locale to developing winter recreation possibilities.

The Crawford - Roscommon extension address is, P.O. Box 507, Roscommon, 48653.

Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bovee

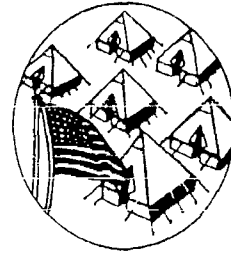

Mrs. Wilfred Ziegler spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. J. Edward Cervenak in Bloomfield Village. She had the pleasure of watching Jud, her grandson, do the lead in a play at the Greek Theatre in Cranbrook. Joni, Mrs. Ziegler's granddaughter, had her mother and grandmother to lunch and activities by the Kingswood School girls on Wednesday. Cranbrook has many interesting activities, Mrs. Ziegler discovered. Mr. Ziegler was unable to attend because of illness.

Miss Mae Ives of Detroit returned home last Wednesday after a three weeks visit with the Truman Marlatts of Lake Margrethe.

At their annual get-together, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Marlatt had as their guests at their Lake Margrethe home seven employees and retirees of Uniroyal, Inc. (Detroit). Included were Dorothy Holland of Grosse Ile, Catherine Emrich of Grosse Pointe Park, Bea Fox and husband, Ken, of Rapid City, Tom Nunn and wife of Traverse City and Betty Becker, Mary Pashiales and Mae Ives, all of Detroit.

Hollie and Andrew Luter of Clarkston spent over a week visiting their grandparents, the R.W. Strongs at Lake Margrethe. Their mother drove them up and back. Other visitors off and on were Mick and Bob Strong II and daughters, Stefie and Bethany, of Alpena.

CRAWFORD

BE PROUD OF YOUR RIGHT TO VOTE.

DO SO AUGUST 3, 1976

THIS DEPARTMENT ANSWERED 1,610 COMPLAINTS IN 1972. IN 1975 WE ANSWERED 3,281 COMPLAINTS. A LITTLE MORE THAN TWICE THE 1972 AMOUNT. BY ALL INDICATIONS AT THE HALF-WAY POINT OF THIS YEAR, WE WILL PASS 1975'S MARK IN COMPLAINTS ANSWERED. CRIME HAS BEEN ON THE RISE EACH YEAR IN THE NATION, AND CRAWFORD COUNTY IS NO EXCEPTION. OUR ARRESTS HAVE ALSO DOUBLED SINCE 1972.

49 PERCENT OF ALL CRIMES COMMITTED IN CRAWFORD COUNTY WERE SOLVED, COMPARED WITH THE STATEWIDE AVERAGE OF 31 PERCENT AND THE NEXT BEST AVERAGE IN THE 8 COUNTY REGION 9, OF ONLY 29 PERCENT. [October 15, 1975 report by the Northeast Regional Justice Advisory Council].

THIS DEPARTMENT HAS THE RESPECT OF THE CIRCUIT AND DISTRICT COURT JUDGES, AND THE TWO NEAR-BY STATE POLICE POSTS. SHOULD YOU HAVE DOUBTS ABOUT SUCH A STATEMENT, PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO CHECK WITH THE ABOVE MENTIONED.

I BELIEVE THAT THE CRAWFORD COUNTY SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT IS AS GOOD OR BETTER THAN ANY LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY IN THIS PART OF THE STATE.

AS SHERIFF OF THIS COUNTY, I FEEL THAT ONE OF THE MORE IMPORTANT THINGS I HAVE DONE, IS TO TAKE A GROUP OF GOOD OFFICERS AND TURN THEM INTO ONE OF THE BEST DEPARTMENTS IN THIS PART OF THE STATE.

THERE IS NO WAY THAT WE CAN PLEASE EVERYONE. IN JUST ABOUT EVERY COMPLAINT OR ACTION, SOMEONE IS UPSET, OR ANGRY WITH THE LAW.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF THE CITY OF GRAYLING — NO LONGER DO YOU HAVE TO PAY THE SHERIFF $1500.00 A YEAR TO ANSWER THE FIRE PHONE, TURN ON THE SIREN AND DISPATCH THE CITY POLICE. WHEN I TOOK OFFICE, I REFUSED THE MONEY. ABOUT 13 1/2% OF YOUR TAX DOLLARS GOES TO THE COUNTY. YOU HAVE THIS SERVICE COMING. AT THIS TIME THE SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT DISPATCHES THE CITY-TOWNSHIP FIRE DEPARTMENT AND CITY POLICE AROUND THE CLOCK, AT NO ADDITIONAL COST.

SINCE I TOOK OFFICE IN 1973, ALL MONIES RECEIVED FOR THE SERVICE OF LEGAL PAPERS, HAVE BEEN TURNED OVER TO THE COUNTY TREASURER.

IN REGARDS TO THE SHERIFF DEPARTMENTS BUDGET. IT IS TRUE THAT IT HAS GONE UP SINCE 1972, BUT SO HAS THE ENTIRE COUNTY BUDGET. I DOUBT IF I HAVE TO TELL YOU THAT THE COST OF LIVING AND WAGES HAVE ALSO RISEN. ABOUT 1/2 OF MY BUDGET IS WAGES. I HAVE NO CONTROL OVER THAT. THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AND THE UNION SET THE WAGES. NOT ALL OF THE WAGES ARE A BURDEN TO THE COUNTY TAXPAYERS. I HAVE TAKEN ADVANTAGE OF EVERY PROGRAM THAT I KNOW OF. I HAVE PERSONNEL ON C.E.T.A., PUBLIC SERVICE CAREERS, AND STATE MARINE & SNOWMOBILE SAFETY PROGRAMS. THE COUNTY RECEIVES FROM 50 TO 100% RETURN ON WAGES FROM THE ABOVE PROGRAMS. ON TWO OF THE ABOVE, WE RECEIVE 2/3 TO 3/4 OF THE OPERATIONAL COST.

I HAVE BEEN AT THE BUDGET MEETINGS EACH YEAR, TO ANSWER ANY QUESTIONS YOU MAY HAVE HAD ABOUT MY DEPARTMENT BUDGET.

THIS DEPARTMENT HAS ONLY 2 OFFICERS MORE AT THIS TIME THAN WHEN I TOOK OVER IN JANUARY, 1973. BOTH OF THESE OFFICERS ARE ON C.E.T.A., AND NO COST TO THE COUNTY. ONE IS A DISPATCH, AND THE OTHER IS A YOUTH OFFICER. THE CITY POLICE BENEFIT IN BOTH CASES AS MUCH AS THIS DEPARTMENT. THE YOUTH OFFICER HANDLES THE CITY'S YOUTH CASES, AND WE NOW DO ALL THE DISPATCHING FOR THE CITY POLICE.

I AM NOT ACCEPTING ANY CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS. I OWE NO ONE PERSON, GROUP, OR ORGANIZATION. MY ONLY OBLIGATION IS TO THE VOTERS, TAXPAYERS AND PEOPLE IN GENERAL, IN THIS COUNTY.

MANY VOTERS DO NOT THINK THE PRIMARY ELECTION IS VERY IMPORTANT. IT IS VERY IMPORTANT TO YOU AND TO THE CANDIDATE OF YOUR CHOICE, SHOULD HE HAVE PARTY OPPOSITION. EXERCISE YOUR RIGHT, HONOR, AND DUTY TO VOTE IN THE AUGUST 3rd PRIMARY ELECTION.

SHOULD YOU FEEL THAT I HAVE FULFILLED MY OBLIGATION AS SHERIFF OF THIS COUNTY, I WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE.

THANK YOU,
HAROLD A. HATFIELD

Thunder Beyond The Mountains
The Story of the Revolutionary War in the Old Northwest

By Gordon G. Beld

Preceding George Rogers Clark down the Ohio River in 1778 were two expeditions from Fort Pitt, one headed by Col. David Rogers and the other by Captain James Willing.

Both were rather small in size, each force being comprised of about 30 men. Both left the upper reaches of the Ohio in January, and both were destined for New Orleans where they were to pick up supplies for colonial troops.

But neither campaign had a happy conclusion. Rogers and most of his men were killed near present-day Cincinnati in a skirmish with Indians led by Simon Girty and Matthew Elliott. Willing was a bit more fortunate. He was captured by the British and came close to being hanged but was eventually released.

Willing, a resident of Natchez when the revolution began and reportedly a wealthy man, had a dual purpose when he sailed from Fort Pitt. Besides picking up supplies at New Orleans and bringing them back to Fort Pitt, he was to attempt to gain control of Natchez and neighboring communities. The population of those settlements had recently been swelled by Loyalists and others who fled the troubled East.

Aboard the gunboat Rattletrap, Willing and his men floated down the Ohio to the Mississippi and managed to slip past two British outposts on the shores of that river. During the voyage downstream he picked up additional volunteers, and by the time he approached Natchez his force numbered about 100.

In the vicinity of Natchez, Willing's men captured several British sympathizers, including Col. Anthony Hutchins. As the expedition continued southward it grew in size — attracting more participants so that the force totaled between 300 and 400 men — and in viciousness, seizing crops and stock, carrying off slaves and burning houses and barns. At Manchac, Willing's army seized the British vessel Rebecca, and below New Orleans it took over the brig Neptune.

After selling the booty from the raids at New Orleans, Willing planned to wreak further havoc at Natchez, but Col. Hutchins escaped and warned residents of the settlement. Willing's unit and an opposing force of about 300 confronted one another about 20 miles south of Natchez and, after an exchange of shots in which several on both sides were killed, Willing retreated downriver.

In the fall some of Willing's men under Lt. Robert George marched northward along the west shore of the Mississippi to join Clark's army in the Illinois country. Willing decided to return to the East by ship but was captured by the British and, after averting an almost certain hanging, was finally paroled.

Rogers, who left Fort Pitt on a mission for the colony of Virginia at almost the same time Willing was dispatched by a committee of Congress, didn't set out on the return voyage until 1779. Carrying supplies obtained from Spanish Governor Galvez through the influence of Oliver Pollock, two boats moved northward up the Mississippi and then up the Ohio.

All went well until they reached the mouth of the Little Miami River at what is now the eastern edge of Cincinnati. Here, where the passage was narrowed by a large sand bar in the Ohio, they were surprised on October 4 by a party of Indians, some of whom sped out of the then-swift tributary on rafts and canoes to head them off. In the ensuing battle, the Indians who were led by Girty and Elliott killed all but 13 of the 70 Americans. Rogers was among those slain. The survivors included Captain Robert Benham who, wounded in both legs and unable to walk, managed to hide in the branches of a fallen tree to escape being scalped by the Indians.

After the warriors left, Benham discovered another American nearby. This man's wounds resulted in the loss of the use of both of his arms. Working together, they managed to survive, Benham who had the use of his arms and hands, could shoot game. The other man could drive the game toward Benham and, when it was shot, kick it over to him for cooking.

Finally, on November 27 they saw a flatboat coming down the river and called to it for help. Those aboard, suspecting an Indian ambush, passed on but after proceeding about a half mile downstream dispatched a canoe to investigate. As the canoe approached cautiously, the crippled men ashore called out their identity and ultimately were rescued. They were by then a sorry-looking pair — almost naked, dirty and unshaven. But they had recovered from their wounds to some extent. Benham was able to hobble around on crutches, and his companion had regained the use of one arm and hand.

$100 Million Lottery Prizes Last Year

Michigan Lottery customers won more than $100 million in prizes during the 12 months ending June 30.

The one-year prize total of $101,213,502 is a record for state-run lotteries and boosts the prize take since the Michigan Lottery started in 1972 to $265,627,398.

The 1975-76 prize total represents an increase of more than $32 million over the previous year.

The surge in prize money is attributed to the popularity of the three "Instant Games" conducted during the year. Record sales were achieved with the introduction of those new games.

The original 50 cent "green" game, however, still accounts for most of the money won since the lottery began in November of 1972. Prizes won in the 50 cent game now total nearly $170 million, as compared to $66 million to date in "Instant" games. Other types of games account for another $30 million.

There have been 26 winners of the top lottery prize — $1,000,000 — since 1972, including eight during the last year.

Dandy-Johnson Speak Vows

Lynn Sharon Dandy and Michael Lee Johnson exchanged their marriage vows Tuesday, June 29, at St. John Lutheran Church. This was also the bride's parents anniversary and her maternal grandparents. Rev. Robert Haskel officiated before about 100 relatives and close friends at the six o'clock double ring candlelight ceremony.

Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dandy of Grayling. Mike's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Owen, also of Grayling.

The organist was Mrs. Irene Abraham, the bride's aunt, from California. Selections presented were "O. Perfect Love", which was sung by the bride's brother, Mark Dandy, and "My Hope is Built on Nothing Less".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of white satin and lace, which was made by herself and her mother. Her crown style headpiece was trimmed with daisy flowers and held her veil of bridal illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, white fugi mums and variegated ivy with pink ribbon.

Maid of honor was Cheryl Krause of East Detroit, a friend of the bride, who is a senior in college in Kalamazoo. Her dress of baby blue was also made by the bride and her mother and was trimmed with the same lace as the bride's gown. She wore a wide brimmed white hat with blue ribbon band and carried a bouquet of red carnations, white daisy poms and blue ribbons.

Ed Shannon of Roscommon served as best man. Ushers were Brian and Ralph Dandy, brothers of the bride. Bill Johnson, the groom's brother lit the candles. The wedding programs were passed out to the guests by Bill Johnson III and Brian Johnson, nephews of the groom.

The groom wore a white suit with white tie and a white carnation tipped with red. His attendants wore blue suits with blue bow ties and white carnations.

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony. A bi-centennial theme was carried out with red, white and blue decorations, trimmed with white bells. Featured was a four-tiered wedding cake with pink rose decorations made by the bride's mother. A small get-together followed at the Dandy residence.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dandy wore a full length gown of blue floral print, which had also been made by the bride and her mother for the occasion. The groom's mother chose a full length gown of mint green double knit polyester. Both had corsages of pink sweetheart roses.

For her going away attire, the bride wore a long beige gown with a full skirt. Following a three day honeymoon to Mackinac Island, the couple will make their home in Hawaii where the groom is stationed in the Army.

The new Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of Grayling High School and also has an Associate's Degree in Child Care from Kirtland Community College. Her husband is also a Grayling High School graduate and is presently in a Military Police Unit of the Army working in a correctional specialist unit.

Out of town guests were present from California, Iowa, Detroit, Houghton Lake and Roscommon.

Being North

BY MICHAEL DELP

Being north has its drawbacks. In recent weeks I have noticed that I am beginning to suffer from a mental form of tunnel vision. Last night a good friend accused me of being provincial. I was insulted. That wasn't strong enough — I have now entered into that backwoods trance known as isolationism.

We seem to have forgotten that life is cyclical, and that it is necessary to sometimes let ourselves be ruled by instinct rather than logic. As I have said on other occasions: some things we do for a reason; some things we just do.

Many people don't like contradiction. It's not constant, and it's not solid. However, Mark Twain, a very solid and constant man, was a living contradiction. He often said three or four different things during the course of the day which directly contradicted each other. In a sense, he couldn't be programmed. When people start second guessing you, you're in trouble.

A fine Kentucky poet, Wendell Berry, has come up with a character in some of his poems who must be watching me, or vice versa. Berry calls him the "Mad Farmer." He plows parking lots, plants pumpkins on the courthouse lawn and generally engages in the art of being outrageously sane. In a poem called "The Mad Farmer Liberation Front: A Manifesto" the Mad Farmer gives us possibly the most valuable instructions you will hear in this century: "Every day do something that won't compute." When "they" start to predict what you're going to do, how you think, and where you're going, then you might as well go out and buy some more new suits.

District Court

The following appeared in the 83rd District Court before Judge Francis L. Walsh last week.

Deborah Jean Van Dalen, 22, of Grayling, was found guilty by a trial by court after pleading not guilty to a charge of attempted obtaining of property under $100.00 under false pretenses. She was assessed a fine of $105.00 or 10 days and $7.85 restitution. She was apprehended on a citizen's complaint May 16.

Alan Leo Schnipke, 36, of Lansing, pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving and was ordered to pay fine and costs of $185.00 or serve 14 days in jail. He was arrested by City Policemen November 4, 1975.

Thomas Bernhardt Galarino, 53, of Kalkaska, was ordered to pay fine and costs of $205.00 or serve 14 days in jail after pleading guilty to D.U.I.L. Sheriff's Deputies arrested him March 30.

Richard West, 27, of Roscommon, demanded preliminary examination to a charge of assaulting, resisting, opposing and obstructing an officer. The 12 day period was waived and $250.00 bond was set. West was arrested in July.

Catherine Ann Stephenson, 24, of St. Helen, was bound over to Circuit Court after a preliminary examination on two counts of possession of stolen credit cards. Bond was assessed at $3,000.00 for both charges. She was apprehended on a citizen's complaint July 7.

Jackie Lee Useton, 23, of New London, Ohio, pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawful use of marijuana. Total fine and costs were $205.00 or 30 days in jail. City Policemen arrested Useton July 16.

Yvonne Ella Knapp, 46, of Roscommon, demanded preliminary examination after being arrested by Sheriff's Deputies for assault with the intent to murder. The 12 day period was waived and bond was set at $10,000.00 cash/surety. She was apprehended July 17.

Daniel Zielinski, 63, of Grayling was found guilty after a trial by court of reporting a fictitious crime. He was ordered to pay fine and costs of $130.00 or 14 days in jail. He was arrested by City Policemen March 30, 1975.

John G. Rose, 53, of Boyne City, was ordered to pay fine and costs of $185.00 or 14 days in jail after pleading guilty to impaired driving. He was arrested June 26 by City Policemen.

Jackie Taylor, 27, of Grayling, entered a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of indecent language in the presence of a woman and children. She was ordered to pay $35.00 or serve 4 days in jail. She was apprehended on a citizen's complaint July 16.

Rodney Gene Riggs, 19, of Frederic, was ordered to pay fine and costs of $205.00 or 14 days in jail after entering a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of D.U.I.L. Riggs was arrested by Sheriff's Deputies July 19.

Robert Warren Dupre, 37, of Mio, pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly person by intoxication in a public place and paid fine and costs of $65.00 or 7 days in jail. He was arrested by Sheriff's Deputies July 18.

Donald Ray Hedgpeth, 18, of Fort Knox, Kentucky, entered a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of disorderly person by intoxication in a public place. He was ordered to pay fine and costs of $65.00 or 7 days in the Crawford County Jail. He was arrested July 19 by City Policemen.

Mark Michael Kelenski, 23, of Detroit, demanded preliminary examination to a charge of felonious assault. The 12 day period was waived and a $1,500.00 cash/surety bond was set. He was apprehended by Sheriff's Deputies July 16.

Don't Understand

"There were some things in your speech that I just didn't quite understand," the constituent told his Congressional representative. "Those were the topics I referred to in a confident, offhand way to avoid disclosing that I don't understand them either," the politician whispered.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF THE 103rd DISTRICT

If any voter of the 103rd Legislative District wants to know why he should vote Ostling out of office on August 3 and Mr. Richard Friske in, he has only to read Ostling's Fact Sheet and examine his legislative voting record.

Ostling's recent Fact Sheet consisted of 3 1/2 pages of printed material. 2 1/2 of which were devoted to promoting the taxation schemes of the education lobby and teachers' union (the MEA, of which Ostling is a member). The essence of his plan is to get rid of the property tax and raise the income tax. The reason for the education lobby's violent opposition to the property tax for our schools is very simple — it is the only tax remaining in the hands of the voters. Control of the income tax on the other hand lies with the legislature where the MEA through its member legislators and education lobby can look forward to almost unlimited spending.

Another section of his Fact Sheet is devoted to his plan to freeze consumers utility rates by abolishing the "pass through clause" which allows utilities to pass on to their customers the increased costs of the fuels the utilities themselves must buy. Who on earth does he think is going to pay this increased cost — the taxpayers? As one who heats his home with oil, I shall demand that Ostling make equal provisions to pay me for any rise in the cost of my fuel oil. And all you wood burners out there certainly deserve reimbursement for any increase in the cost of cord wood. This is the kind of demagogic deception that calls for a resounding defeat at the polls. There is not a word in his Fact Sheet about stopping the waste of public funds or curbing the bureaucracy.

There is an old saying in politics that if your record or the caliber of your opponent threatens you with defeat, attack the utilities. Since the incumbent is obviously running against the utilities, it was apparent that his voting record in Lansing would bear scrutiny. It proved to be even more dismal and special interest oriented than his Fact Sheet. Of twenty-two important votes that were selected to indicate whether the legislator was for responsible, low cost, locally controlled government, greater individual and personal freedom from government controls and against special privilege, the incumbent was absent for five (23%). Now if one doesn't want to vote openly against the interest of his constituents he can often achieve the same result without risk of exposure by being absent. Of the remaining 17 bills, he voted against these standards eight times (47%). Among other things he voted to pay teachers while they are on strike. He voted to increase the pay and size of an already bloated Welfare Department. He voted to have the state interfere with employer/employee scheduling agreements. The incumbent has voted down the line with the MEA — educational lobby. He claims to have been a "damned good" arithmetic teacher. He should then be able to explain to us why it is that the more we spend on education and the more influence the education lobby has in Lansing, the lower the academic level of the students. The truth is that the education lobby is no longer interested in quality education and in fact doesn't seem to know what it is. The incumbent can be expected to fuss and fume and deny all this. The facts given here will stand. They come from his own Fact Sheet and legislative record. Our problem is in Lansing. The incumbent is part of that problem not part of the solution.

Let's look at the caliber of his opponent. First and foremost Richard Friske is an honest and decent man. Friske will not say one thing to get elected and vote the opposite in Lansing or absent himself during the voting. Neither during his previous term as legislator nor in the future will he betray the citizens of his district for those of any special interest group. Friske will not propose hare-brained utility schemes to get votes. He will not support socialism in education nor the greedy power-hungry education lobby whose professed interest in education is a sham and a fraud. He will support the tax limitation amendment which is being fought tooth and nail by the welfare rights organizations, bureaucrats at all levels and of course the ubiquitous education lobby.

Richard Friske deserves the vote on August 3 of every citizen of this district who wants to get the government off our backs and out of our pocket books.
